A MODEL HUSBAND.

Fifth installment of Letters on this interesting question by Ladies Competing for the $10 in Prize Offered by The Columbia Herald.

RARA AVIS.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:
The race is not to the swift,
Nor the battle to the strong;
So I will join the number,
To help the Herald along.
It is an excellent paper,
And the Editor is wise,
To offer ten golden dollars
As a "Model Husband" prize.

If there is any subject
More tempting than the gold,
That would induce a woman
Her efforts to unfold,
It is this Model Husband,
With characteristics rare,
Who asks a winsome maiden,
His lot in life to share.

I'm aware that imperfection
In every wife is found,
If there's a Model Husband, Lord, let his praise resound,
I've read that in the scriptures
Every type of man
Is portrayed, for our improvement,
With a teacher's hand.

From Genesis to Revelation
I've scanned the pages o'er;
And find that a husband Lives—no more.
Of the greatest things on hand,
We can make a Model Husband,
Or at least a model man.

The wisdom of a Solomon,
His riches too, must share,
But he as much as Daniel, dare To serve his God, and
And humbly bow the knee, Acknowledging God's mercy,
From all eternity.

The faithfulness of Abraham, Applied unto his wife;
There is nothing more essential In a Model Husband's life.
The love and tenderness long years Which Jacob did sustain, Which Rachel he might gain.

The beauty of an Absalom,
For beauty is a charm,
That holds a woman in its chain,
With admiration warm.
The righteousness of Noah,
In warning fellowmen,
God's wrath is sure to come,
For unrepentant sin.

The patience and endurance
Of poor old Job, afflicted, Would never curse his God,
The second husband's fate,
So, when sitting down at ease,
May produce the sweetest music
His charming wife to please.

The health and strength of Samson,
For health is a gain,
The life is full of shadow,
That is often crossed with pain.
With a moral sense of duty,
And a little sparkling wit,
I think upon a model,
We have surely hit.

Since our faults are only virtues,
I'm carried to another scene,
What to one appears giving,
To another is a pain.
If, in this poor, desolate land,
A thousand faults may loom,
Remember that perfection
Is only Heaven's boon.

Husbands present, and prospective,
Be not deterred by this list,
You'll be, at least, to one a model,
If you "do the best" you can.
KEITH HAZELTINE.

A Christian.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:
The man who takes the Holy Bible For guide, who loves the church, Who prays for and possesses the Holy Spirit, to enable him to put on the best plate of righteousness, that he may stand against the wiles of the evil one—surely will make "A Model Husband." TRUDY.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:

A devoted Christian;
A southern gentleman;
A brave soldier;
A tender lover;
A thorough business man and a "Democrat" through and through.
"CHILD OF THE CONFEDERACY."

Manliness and Piety.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:
A Christian; one who does not forget the little courtesies lavished on a wife when a girl; a man that loves and appreciates home and wife so much, that he is manly enough to let her know it; a man who is influenced by a good noble wife. Unselfish in all things; having a principle and courage to say no when tempted; remembering a wife's happiness depends on a husband's actions, and home is a desert place without manliness and piety.

Paul's Standard.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:
"Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church and gave himself for it." So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies.
He that loveth his wife loveth himself." Thus the inspired Paul writes to husbands, and the man who loves his wife that well, will protect her and provide for her comfort and happiness, as well as his income will allow, from the millionaire in his mansion to the common day laborer in his hut; but will be temperate in all his habits, and when he returns to his home will have a friendly greeting for all present, will be courteous and considerate and not too exacting, but to whom his wife can at all times turn for counsel, and in whom she can safely trust. In prosperity or adversity he will ever inspire divine assistance. SIBYL.

Courtesy will Tame a Petrichio's Kate.

Editor of the COLUMBIA HERALD:
A model husband must be God serving, and man helping.
He must be both physically and morally brave; not needlessly putting his foot upon a worm, yet ready if need be, to die for the right.
He must shun low company, and vicious habits; and be above a little meanness.
In business he must be prompt,
energetic, persevering and courteous;
but rather take it as an honor, to promptly answer her cry.
A "model husband" is one who never wears in well doing; who does not need if dinner is at one instead of twelve, who has many years to accompany his wife to church, never answers, "it's too cold or bad for you to attend this eve,"—puts on his best lights his cigar and teapot; but tells her to come and go with him, and talks cheerfully to her all the eve.
When his day's work is done, never

serving, and man helping.
his foot upon a worm, yet ready if
need be, to die for the right.
vicious habits; and be above a little meanness.
In business he must be prompt,
energetic, persevering and courteous;
but rather take it as an honor, to
promptly answer her cry.
A "model husband" is one who
never wears in well doing; who does
not need if dinner is at one instead of twelve, who has many years
to accompany his wife to church, never
to attend this eve,"—puts on his best
lights his cigar and teapot; but tells
talks cheerfully to her all the eve.
When his day's work is done, never

This we girls so seldom think of when we are choosing a husband,
but rather take it as an honor, to
promptly answer her cry.
